ING LETTER CON-
G ARMY LIFE WRIT-BY LOCAL BOY *

HAS A TOUGH JOB

Says Men Learn To Like
After Certain Amount Of "Gripping"

son of Mr. and Mrs.
Hair and a well known who was inducted into last month, writes the interesting letter about at Camp Shelby, Miss.:

Hariden:

me to my attention that back home are receiving impressions of life here at Shelby. Several people have shippings of letters received and I have shown these to the boys around my out-quarters Company and Deand they suggest I give side of the picture. With mission, therefore, I will be those of us who feel we are something from the offered by the only army in today that has never sufers a great deal about the the army makes. It is true regrettable incidents have and certain groups use to promote ill feeling the army. However, the way is to learn by experthe field," and to profit by akes. And since the army can in every sense of the follows the same pattern. Of ful improvements and des, the public hears little, may is too busy getting the to boast about each little ward. This does not become until one observes first hand (a visitor) the operations of home from the men include amounts of "gripping." It is natural reaction, and while have a negative attitude at the "gripping" does not have an effect upon experienced officials. They understand the men think) the probthe newly arrived "rookie." is entirely different from life, and when a young man is jerked from the one and into the other without any aries, he is quite naturally toward bitterness. It is us-y a matter of a few short however, until he has become to the new life, and were he met with himself, happy. It

RED INDIAN CHIEF TOLD PUTNAM ARMER THAT CUSTER KILLED SELF

Russell, 62 years old, living miles northwest of Clover-distinguish among the cit-

Indian maiden, daughter of Man, and most interesting of was a great niece of Sitting

Russell to a Daily Banner the other day. "I remember recall his story of the fight the Sioux and General and his soldiers, in which all soldiers were killed. Sitting Bull by the Indians but that he himself after the Indians caping Bull always seemed kind to me, but we know he terrible fighter and a skilful ader," Mr. Russell continued.

had tried to pick up a gun

(40) and a good friend of mine, was quite bitter. It would seem that he had the right, for he had been called away from an excellent job, just two weeks before an important promotion (so he learned later), and about a month before his wedding. Today that boy is beginning to show his old enthusiasm and eagerness to work, and while he still feels quite badly about having to postpone his wedding, he sees the whole situation in a different light.

His is the case of many. Some are beginning to be enthusiastic, others have cheered up tremendously, and in another two or three weeks all that will be left will be the "gripping," —without the bitterness. According to army standards, the "gripping" is essential. It denotes an interest in the work and a desire to better the conditions. Without the "gripping," an army is listless and spineless. This is not my idea, but that of experienced officers who have worked with men all their lives.

Our army has a really tough job on its hands. It is being forced to do two jobs at once, and while the whole thing looks like pretty much of a mess, the job is being done. The army would like to spend a month or so in developing the physical condition of the new men before putting them to work learning their various specialized jobs. Time is at a premium, however, and the men must be trained at their work at the same

Nearby Farmers Reject Proposal

REPORTED TO HAVE TURNED DOWN SOIL PLAN FROM GOVERNMENT

BRAZIL, Ind., May 14.—(UP)— Farmers of southern Clay, northern Greene, and western Owen counties today were reported to have rejected a government proposal to create a soil conservation project covering approximately 25,000 acres of bottomland.

Officials indicated that although more than 60 per cent of the land owners in the area were reported to have voted in favor of the project yesterday, the 60 per cent approval required by the government was lacking.

Opponents to the plan who scored heavily in Greene county asserted that great powers would be conferred on three supervisors chosen from land owners to enforce regulations which they might advance.

The proposal included a plan under which federal funds would aid in development of a drainage system.

Methodists Held Business Meeting

DR. MCCLURE INVITED BACK FOR ANOTHER YEAR AT GOBIN CHURCH

Go bin Memorial Methodist church held its annual election of trustees and officers and appointed committees for the conference year at a special business session Monday evening. Dr. J. E. Porter, district superintendent conducted the business of the fourth quarterly conference and received reports of the year's work from the various department heads. The reports indicated that the church had made splendid progress during the year. The financial condition of the church is the best in many years. The membership committee reported 70 new members, received during the year, bringing the membership of the church to 1293. The conference expressed its appreciation of the able leadership of Dr. Porter and passed a motion asking the bishop to reappoint him to the Greencastle District for another year.

Prof. Jerome C. Hixson, in well chosen words, expressed appreciation for the work of Rev. C. M. McClure during the past five years as minister of Go bin Memorial church and the conference invited Mr. McClure back for another year. Preceding the business session, members of the official board and their families enjoyed a fellowship dinner served by Circle VI under the leadership of Mrs. Ralph Ross. Officers and committees for the coming year were announced.

RESPECT MUST BE SHOWN WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, May 14.—(UP)— Soldiers, sailors and marines who for two nights have attempted to break up the American Peace Mobiliza-tion's picket line in front of the White House were warned today that "the White House must be respected."

Lieut. Col. Horace B. Smith, White House military aide, personally intervened twice last night on behalf of the pickets when they were threatened by attacks from groups of service men.

The pickets have been marching since Friday afternoon in what they describe as a "perpetual peace vigil." They protested to Maj. Gen. Edwin M. Watson, presidential secretary, yesterday against an attack Monday night by soldiers, sailors and marines, and Watson promised adequate protection.

Smith, who said he had been assigned to protect the pickets, apparently was Watson's answer.

The service men gathered late last night in Lafayette Park, across the street from the White House. When they started to cross the street, Smith came out of the White House grounds, ordered them to attention and told them:

"You men like myself are wearing the uniform of the United States and when you do that you've got to be orderly."

When one of the soldiers suggested that they might return in civilian clothes, Smith answered:

"In uniform or out, the White House must be respected."

that, whereas, the straw hat has become a national institution and has headgear;

In decorating the male physiognomy;

about—

CRITICALLY ILL

Dr. R. J. Gillespie is reported critically ill at his home on west Walnut street.

20 Years Ago IN GREENCASTLE

Miss Josephine Young entertained at a shower for Miss Gerelda Thomas whose wedding with C. E. Jones of New York City was to occur soon.
The engagement was announced at a party given by Miss Adelaide Thomas.

"Simmy Sayers," said the newspaper, "set a new mark for the Greencastle golf players to shoot at Thursday when he shot a 72 for the 18 holes on the local course."

Red Sea Threat Directed At U. S.

GERMANS ANNOUNCE THAT WAR ZONE EXTENDS TO THIS BODY OF WATER

BERLIN, May 14.—(UP)—Germany's threat to destroy "by mines and other war means" ships in the northern part of the Red sea, was believed today to be directed at the United States, which is planning to send 27 ships there with war supplies for the British.

Diplomatic sources saw a direct connection between Germany's extension of the war zone to the Red sea, and President Roosevelt's reopening of the Red sea to United States shipping. German spokesmen declined to confirm that theory however, and some said that on the contrary, the German warning applied to ships of all nations.

The warning was that "ships entering the specified area do so at their own risk, however that is their business."

The specified area, according to official news agency, includes the northern part of the Red sea, the Gulf of Suez and the Gulf of Akaba.
The waters of Saudia Arabia are exempt, and special markings will be devised for pilgrim ships bearing Arabs to Mecca, the agency said.

Otherwise, it said, "every ship coming within these waters faces the possibility of destruction."

German sources said the action was the result of intensified activity in the Mediterranean.

BRITISH PLANES RAID GERMAN NAVAL BASE

LONDON, May 14.—(UP)—British planes raided Helgoland Island, important German naval base, and sank or damaged several ships off the coast of Holland and France and in the harbor at St. Nazaire yesterday, authoritative sources said today.

At Helgoland, informants said, "Successful attacks were made with bombs and machine gun fire from a few hundred feet, causing great confusion."

Weather last night was unsuitable for large scale operations but British fighters attacked the airdrome at Ostend, informants said.

EXERCISE PROVED FATAL

NEWCASTLE, Ind., May 14 (UP)— Too strenuous exercise was described today as the cause of a heart attack which killed Virgil Smith, 13, while playing at the high school athletic field yesterday.

Coroner Ralph Noblock announced the cause after the boy was pronounced dead on arrival at a local clinic.

Miss Elizabeth Harrington, physical education instructor, said a group of children had run several laps around the school track and that the Smith boy fell to the ground.

DIZZY TO QUIT

CHICAGO, May 14.—(UP)—Dizzy Dean, once one of baseball's mightiest pitchers, asked the Chicago Cub today to put him on the voluntary retired list.

The big right-hander from Texas permed his farewell to active playing in his hotel room after talking on the telephone with Cubs General Manager Jim Gallagher.

CIRCUIT COURT NOTES

Lucile Schorey, 415 north Jackson street, Greencastle, has filed a complaint in the Putnam Circuit court asking for a limited divorce from Warren Maxwell Schorey, together with the custody of their two small sons, support money and a restrain-ing order to prevent the husband from entering upon the premises where she lives or molesting her and their children in any way. She says they were married October 31, 1931, but that she secured a divorce from him in the Blackford county court but, upon his insistence, were remarried October 5, 1938. They had one son by their first marriage and one by their second union. Charles Mc-Gaughey is attorney for the plaintiff.

In reply to the divorce petition filed in the Putnam Circuit court a few days ago by Margaret White against Charles White, the latter has filed a cross-complaint in which he corrects the date of their marriage given in her complaint, stating they were married in 1913 instead of in 1941, and he says in addition: "the cause for such strife (as alleged by the wife) that exists between the parties is the misconduct of the plaintiff; she curses and demeans the cross-complainant and all his kin without cause or provocation." Charles Mc-Gaughey is attorney for the husband.

PARTY SPLIT APPARENT IN HESS ESCAPE

NAZI NO. 3 IS REPORTED AS TALKING FREELY TO BRIT-ISH OFFICIALS

HITLER EXPLANATION LOOMS

France Sees Direct Connection Between Hess Flight And Present Negotiations

VICHY, May 14 (UP)—The French Council of Ministers has approved decisions reached in the recent conference between Adolf Hitler and French Admiral Jean Darlan, an official announcement said today. It added that "the effects of the negotiations will be felt soon." The nature of the decisions approved by the council was not disclosed.

LONDON, May 14.—(UP)—Rudolf Hess is talking so freely, and apparently so frankly, on a serious rift in the Nazi party that Prime Minister Winston Churchill may question him personally and include some of his disclosures in the statement he has promised to the House of Commons, it was revealed today.

There seemed no remaining doubt that Hess, the No. 3 Nazi who had fled Germany by airplane and parachuted to safety in Scotland, had asserted to official questioners that there had been a break in the Nazi leadership, the first since the Nazi party purge of 1934.

Interest in Hess's disclosures was increased because he was not only the executive of the entire party, and thus in control of its political machine, but because he was a close personal friend of Heinrich Himmler, chief of the dreaded Nazi secret police, who has a formidable machine of his own.

Hess has been talking for hours at a time to Ivone Kirkpatrick, former first secretary of the British embassy at Berlin who was translator to the late Neville Chamberlain at the Munich conference.

BERLIN, May 14.—(UP)—Adolf Hitler is considering the advisability of making a speech to explain the flight to the enemy of his closest associate to the bewildered German people, diplomatic quarters reported today.

It was said that Hitler's decision whether to speak on the defection of Rudolf Hess would depend to a great extent on new developments.

"We must wait and see what this mentally deranged individual will do in future," an informant said.
"What he says, however, or what the British claim he says, can not be accepted as authentic in view of his mental sickness."

VICHY, France, May 14.—(UP) Diplomatic quarters reported today that Rudolf Hess's flight from Germany was the result of a decision by Adolf Hitler to collaborate with France and fight to the end in an attempt to destroy Great Britain.

They saw a direct connection between the Hess fight and the present French-German collaboration negotiations.

They reported that Hess and some other leading Nazis, possibly including Paul Joseph Goebbels, had favored slicing up France and seeking collaboration with Britain, but that the opposite school, led by Joachim von Ribbentrop, had won out.

Informants expressed belief that Hess might only be the first man of a faction of Nazi dissidents to flee as the alternative to being liquidated.
There was one report that Hess had fled after escaping one attack on him in Germany.

Hess wrote before flying to Scotland

REMEMBRANCE

In loving remembrance of our precious mother, Stella Wells, who departed this life one year ago today, May 13, 1940.

Where the shadows of darkness gather,
And the toils of life are done, Often times our thoughts turn backwards
To our happy little home.
We can see our precious mother, Tender, loving, young and fair, Oh, it seemed almost like heaven When our Mother dear was there.
Oh, how tenderly, we loved you,
We loved you our sweet angel, Mother dear.

How you shared our every sorrow, Kissed away our every tear.
You were always kind and patient, Spreading sunshine everywhere.
Oh, it's hard to find another Who with Mother can compare.
That early May morn we'll never forget it.

Just after the break of day, When the neighbors brought the news to us That you, dear Mother, had passed away.
It made us sad and broken hearted 'Cause Father and us were left alone.
Our friends were sympathetic and kind,
But no other like you we find.
We will always miss you wherever we go,
The truest earthly friend we'll ever know,
Never a day can slip away,
And never a twilight fall,
That we are not thankful That we had a Mother Who was praised and loved by all, You our Mother, precious Mother.
Sadly missed by Oscar Wells and children.

children but a foster daughter, Hilda, of high school age, is with him and between the two and with some help from others, the home is kept inhabitable. Mr. Russell's father was David H. Russell, of Dutch-Scotch blood, who went West as a small boy in '49 with his father and mother. The latter died on the way when James Russell's father was only 8 years old. The son at the age of 13, joined a volunteer force of Westerners to fight the Cayuse Indians and later married Ekakaka, the Sioux girl. Their son, the present Putnam county resident, was born in a ranch home on Broom Creek close to Fort Laramie, and the family later moved into Montana where it was that Sitting Bull visited them.

The town Ekakaka, in Carter county, Montana, which had a population of 3,817 in 1930, grew up around the Russell home and was named in honor of the Indian mother of Mr. Russell.

Russell and his white wife had a ranch of their own, stocked with cattle, but the hard season in 1919 caused him to lose all he had. "I had to pay $60 a ton for slough grass from Minnesota for my starving cows," he said. He was married in Montana in 1909, but he and his wife had to abandon their ranch and they drifted East into Indiana and came to Putnam county in response to an advertisement of the little farm which they bought.

There is no citizen of the county more respected by his fellow-men than is Mr. Russell. He is large in physique, with the strong features of the Sioux, but is very mild in his disposition and friendly to all who seek his acquaintance.

GAVE TWILIGHT CONCERT

The first of a series of Twilight Band Concerts sponsored by the music fraternity, Phi Mu Alpha, was played Tuesday evening by the De-Pauw University Concert Band. The performance which featured two Beta Singers was dedicated to the Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

The band, clad in white and blue summer outfits, played a light and varied program to a large audience of students, faculty and townspeople who were seated informally on the East College lawn. Their selections included "Manhattan Beach" by Philip Sousa, "Spiritual River" by Gaunt, and "In A Monastery Garden" by Ketelby.

The Beta Singers, directed by David Stephens, senior in the DePauw School of Music, sang "Delta Chapter Song," a novel arrangement of Victor Herbert's "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp" and were accompanied by the band in an impressive rendering of "The Bells of St. Mary's." They closed with the traditional "Beta Loving Cup."

Concluding numbers for the band were in a somewhat lighter vein.
They included Friml's "Donkey Serenade," Lehar's "Merry Widow," "Pavanne" by Martin Gould and "Lady of Spain" by Evans as well as Meyerbeer's "Coronation March" and Glier's "Russian Sailor's Dance."

The program closed with the "De-Pauw Marching Song" and an announcement of a similar concert for next Tuesday evening. Greencastle citizens are invited.

Madison Township Farm Bureau will meet Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at No. 10 school building.
L. E. Gerde, magician and entertainer extraordinary will be present to furnish the entertainment.

TB Testing Given

TOTAL OF 357 CHILDREN WERE TESTED; 29 X-RAYED AT COUNTY HOSPITAL

A final report on the tuberculin testing program sponsored by the Putnam County Tuberculosis Association in the high schools of the county the past school year was given at the meeting held Tuesday noon at the College Inn. The ninth grade, contacts and basketball clubs in the following schools received the test: Reelsville, Greencastle, Cloverdale, Eainbridge, Belle Union, Clinton Center, Reelsdale and Russellville.
A total of 357 children were tested.
From this number there were 29 positive reactors. The positive reactors were x-rayed at the Putnam county hospital.

A positive reaction does not mean you have tuberculosis. It does mean that you have been in contact with someone who is throwing off tuberculosis germs and the germs have entered your body. The x-ray is taken to find out whether the germs have caused any damage in the lungs and if so, how much.

Dr. Chester A. Stayton, Indianapolis, roentgenologist for the Putnam county hospital, read the x-rays and sent written reports of his findings to the physicians who gave the test.
Dr. Stayton found no evidence of cardiac or active pulmonary disease in the group. However, calcifications of a healed tuberculosis progress were evident in 8 cases.

The family physician, the county and city school nurse will follow up the positive reactors, to instruct the parents as to their responsibility and endeavor to discover the source of infection.

posal of the Treasury Department that a federal tax of 1c be placed on soft drinks, according to Otis Gardner of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Greencastle.

Mr. Gardner says "Those of us who are engaged in the sale of soft drinks are willing and glad to pay our share of the national defense program, but by segregating a food product such as ours from all other foods for a special tax of the type proposed the bottler and fountain, and other retailers as well, face the problem of rising costs and decreasing sales."

"The fraction-of-a-cent margin of earnings on bottled soft drinks, for example, makes it impossible for the manufacturer to absorb a one-cent tax, and raising of the retail price to cover the tax will cause a severe decrease in soft drink consumption and sales, affecting all who sell soft drinks. After all, the principal consumers of soft drinks are the children and the wage-earners of the nation. To them 20 per cent is a heavy rate of tax on a five cent item."

"At the same time our costs of operation are certain to advance still further due to the proposed increases and new taxes on gasoline, fuel oil, automotive equipment, tires and tubes, checks, telephone, telegraph, transportation, refrigerators, insurance, light bulbs, coin operated devices, and capital stock, all of which are cost items to the soft drink manufacturer. The proposed increase in the tax on sugar by 1c per pound alone will cost the soft drink industry several million dollars annually," he added.

JIM O'HAIR WRITES

time as their bodies are being strengthened and their minds disciplined.

Every day is a full one for the soldier. He gets up early and has no time to lie in bed. He must be dressed and have the tent (usually five men to a tent) in good order before formation. The first formation has a definite purpose: to wake the men up. Even when one is used to getting up early he's a bit bleary eyed for awhile. Ten minutes is taken to police the grounds, or company area, and this too has its purpose—to teach the men not to become careless with burnt matches and cigarette butts.

To tell the truth, just about everything the army does has a purpose behind it. We learn to live decently, even while in the field, and it will do us all good, for after our term of service is over, we will find that we have not forgotten our habits of cleanliness—indeed, we shall have perhaps learned a few.

It's a funny thing about the food. An army meal has little or no fattening ingredients, and a minimum amount of grease. Everything in it is of the muscle-building type, with exception of ice cream and cake or other types of deserts. When one gets right down to it, the main reason for complaint in the food situation is the lack of "extras" that we are used to in civilian life—and which tend to soften rather than harden. With a few admissible exceptions, the food is good—and let no mother fear that her son is underfed or receives poor food. It would prove too expensive for the army.

The first two weeks here at camp we spent in close-order drill. Every morning and afternoon we spent in the Mississippi sun and dust—marching, marching, marching. The first few days were the worst; we marched until we were about to drop, and then, when things seemed the darkest and we began wondering what ever possessed us to volunteer in this man's army, a 10 or 15 minute rest period would be called. Apparently those hard-boiled drill sergeants one hears about so much are human after all! Thank God! We're tougher now, and browner, and we'll back our outfit against any in the camp. As a matter of fact, in the final review given Maj. Gen. Tyndall (retiring head of the 38th and camp commander) the "softheads" of the Hq. Co. turned in the best performance—"by admission of the commanding general."

We're busy, all right, but we're learning! And we're getting tough! Our's is the first National Guard division to get a regular army man as a commander. He is Maj. Gen. D. I. Sultan, recently of the Hawaiian Islands, and noted for being the army's most able island defense man. Because of this, rumors are two for a nickel that we will soon be entrained for the Islands. However, if we paid much attention to the rumors that are continually floating around we'd be mighty upset by this time. So far, we've been sent to Puerto Rico, Panama, Greenland, South America, Africa, and a few other choice spots. Personally, we've adapted the "I'll believe it when we get there" policy, and we're still here at Shelby.

Emphasis is laid on little things like cleaning mess gears properly, wearing clean socks, keeping rifles and pistols clean, and so forth. It only takes a few minutes to do each of these things, and it pays so much. A little bit of old food in the meat pan or on a fork may cause dysentery—and I speak from experience when I say it's no fun. Soiled socks can cause sore feet—and on a march it is essential that the feet are in good condition. A rifle that has been allowed to rust and become inaccurate may fail to do its job some day, and as a result—another grave on foreign soil. All of those little, seemingly insignificant things that can be bothersome at times have been proven to necessary by experience, and the army teaches the men to do them, and do them right.

In spite of a full day, the soldier finds time to enjoy some relaxation in the form of a visit to a nearby canteen or a movie. He may go into Hattiesburg on a weekend night, or take in a trip to Biloxi, Gulfport, Mobile, Jackson, or even New Orleans. The latter visits are made by convoys which leave Friday noon and return Sunday evening. Transportation is free, and the boys may stay at army quarters established especially for taking care of the convoys. There's plenty to do—both in the form of work and of play, and the result is definitely encouraging.

I've about talked myself out of my "mad" at some of the disgusting examples of "soldiers," and have also taken up a great deal of space. I hope that you can find it possible to let the folks back there know that life here at Camp Shelby is really a wholesome experience, and that when the boys return, they'll be non-the-worse (and quite possibly better) off than when they left.

Say hello to Jimmy, George, Murel, Charlie and the rest of the gang for me, will you? I miss all of you and wish that I could walk down the street and speak to you face-to-face. The year will go pretty fast, though, and before you know it I'll be in your way and under your feet again. Until then, and with best regards to the family, I am

Sincerely yours,
J. O'Hair.

Newspaper linotype work is a fine vocation or trade. It is clean, intelligent work. Ask any newspaper publisher. He will tell you Linotype operators in small towns are paid good wages, about the highest rate in town. Large newspapers pay from $8 to $11 a day.

Lois Hitchins, of Illinois, recently finished a three months' course of training. She is only 18 years of age and never had previous experience. Before she left school she had six positions offered her and accepted a $25 per week job with a small town newspaper in Michigan.

Young men from Indiana writes he held his newspaper job since 1929 because of the training received at this school. He wants us to recommend a student for his job as he is being drafted.

Young man from Yuma, Arizona, writes: "It's been almost 10 years since you guided me through your grand school and I have been forever grateful."

Two brothers, from Michigan write: "Progress has been rapid, thanks to the system you taught us."

Editor from Illinois writes: "Have you any operators looking for work? We had Fred from you, and he was a good operator. We now again have a place for a man or woman."

Editor from Iowa: "About 15 years ago I sent my daughter to your school. She is working with me now. We are raising a boy and he wants to take your course."

The above excerpts from letters received the past few weeks. If interested, we will give you the writers' address.

Small town newspaper experience, after you finish your course, will train you for a large newspaper job, where wages really are something.

Applicants must have grammar or high school education. Three months' tuition costs about as much as an ordinary refrigerator. A refrigerator wears out. The training you get here carries on through a life time and as you improve, your salary or income keeps pace with your ability.

Yes, this is a great business and because of the draft and increase in newspaper advertising and general business, this is a most opportune time to investigate and get started. You never heard of a linotype operator giving up his work to clerk, work in an office, teach school or work at any of the thousands of ordinary jobs most people work at.

Ask any publisher. Learn what he thinks about this school and its proprietor, Milo Bennett, holder of world records on linotypes. Then, after you get all the facts, write for free catalog. Address—

Hailed as the best of all the exciting Lone Wolf adventures, "The Lone Wolf Takes A Chance" opens Wednesday and Thursday at Voncastle Theatre with Warren William again featured in the title role as fiction's suave sleuth. Famed for years as an expert in romance and robbery, the debonair Lone Wolf has ample opportunity to pursue both his specialties in the new film, for he has a beautiful new-comer, June Storey, as his leading lady and a highly valuable shipment of U. S. currency engraving plates as the object of his and others' burglarious intentions. The story opens with Michael Lanyard, known to the police as Wolf, discovering a corpse in a fire-escape. Realizing the substantial evidence points to the killer, Lanyard starts investigation of the case and soon weaves a plot to steal valuable engraving plates from a fire-proof baggage car. He finds that a gang of counterfeiters kidnapped the inventor of the order to facilitate their robbery.
